On September 23, 1970, Billie Jean King, joined by Rosemary Casals, Nancy Richey, Kerry Melville, Peaches Bartkowicz, Kristy Pigeon, Judy Dalton, Valerie Ziegenfuss and Julie Heldman, decided to participate in the inaugural $7,500 Virginia Slims of Houston event.

Billie Jean King and her group of eight other renegades were revolutionary by 1970s standards. A full two years ahead of the passage of Title IX in the United States, they envisioned a better future for women's tennis. In September 1970, the birth of women's professional tennis was launched when nine players signed $1 contracts with World Tennis publisher Gladys Heldman to compete in a new women's tour, the Virginia Slims Series. The Original 9, as they were called, included Billie Jean King, Rosie Casals, Nancy Richey, Kerry Melville, Peaches Bartkowicz, Kristy Pigeon, Judy Dalton, Valerie Ziegenfuss and Julie Heldman.

Heldman, along with her friend Joe Cullman from Philip Morris and several others, provided women's professional tennis the opportunity the Original 9 and so many others sought. The inaugural $7,500 Virginia Slims of Houston was established on September 23, 1970 and it was the event that became the groundbreaker for all others.

1971 – The Virginia Slims Series debuted with 19 tournaments, with a total purse of $309,100 on offer in the United States and Billie Jean King became the first female athlete to cross the six-figure mark in season earnings.

1973 – Billie Jean King founded the Women's Tennis Association, uniting all of women's professional tennis in one tour. The WTA was borne out of a meeting held in a room at the Gloucester Hotel in London the week before Wimbledon; the US Open, for the first time, offered equal prize money to the men and women.

1974 – The WTA signed the first television broadcast contract in the history of the Association (with CBS).

1975 – The Virginia Slims Series was streamlined to an 11-week Tour of the US, concluding at the end of March.

1976 – Colgate assumed sponsorship of the Tour events from April to November for four years; at the Palm Springs event, Chris Evert became the first female athlete to cross $1 million in career earnings.

1980 – By now more than 250 women were playing professionally all over the world in a Tour consisting of 47 global events, offering a total $7.2 million in prize money.

1982 – Navratilova became the first woman to earn over $1 million in a season

1983 – Virginia Slims returned, replacing Avon and Toyota, who replaced Colgate in 1981, to sponsor the first unified Circuit of more than $10 million.

1984 – Navratilova received a $1-million bonus from the ITF for winning Roland Garros and thus holding all four Grand Slam singles crowns at the same time, having won Wimbledon and the US and Australian Opens in 1983; Navratilova crossed the $2-million mark in season earnings, more than men's No.1 John McEnroe; the Australian Open joined the US Open in offering the women's event equal prize money (temporarily did not between 1996-2000).

1986 – Navratilova passed $10 million in career earnings by winning the US Indoors.

1988 – Graf became the second woman in the Open Era to complete a calendar year Grand Slam, and made it a 'Golden Grand Slam' by winning the Olympic title in Seoul.

1990 – Another Philip Morris company, Kraft General Foods, replaced Virginia Slims after 15 years of loyal sponsorship; the Tour's prize purse increased to $23 million and concluded the season at Madison Square Garden, in New York, with the first-ever $1-million tournament in women's sports; Navratilova won a record ninth Wimbledon singles title.

1991 – Monica Seles became only the second player to pass the $2-million mark in season earnings and would better men's leader Stefan Edberg in '91 and '92.

1995 – The WTA Players Association merged with the Women's Tennis Council to form the WTA Tour, and after Monica Seles' inspiring return to the sport in the summer, the Corel software corporation came on as title sponsor at the end of the year; prize money of the season-ending Championships doubled to $2 million.

1997 – On March 30, Hingis became the fastest player ever to win $1 million in a season and a day later became the youngest-ever world No. 1, ending Graf's record reign (for men and women) of 377 total weeks.

1998 – By winning Leipzig, Graf eclipsed Navratilova's all-time prize money record.

2000 – Sanex bodycare products came on board as the Tour's title sponsor for three years; after 22 consecutive years, Madison Square Garden hosted its last season-ending Championships.

2001 – The Australian Open returned to equal prize money and overall Tour prize money increased to $50 million in 63 events, including the first-ever Middle Eastern Tour events in Doha, Qatar and Dubai, UAE; Munich hosted the season-ending Championships; Jennifer Capriati capped a fairytale return to the sport by winning her first two career Grand Slam titles and rising to No. 1 in October.

2002 – The Williams sisters fulfilled their father's prophecy by becoming the No.1 players in the world, first Venus in February, then Serena in July. Serena won three majors, defeating her older sister in each final; Los Angeles hosted the season-ending Championships for the first time since 1976.

2003 – The "Get In Touch With Your Feminine Side" marketing campaign was launched, at the time it was the Tour's most significant branding effort in its history. Serena Williams won the Australian Open to complete the "Serena Slam" while Kim Clijsters became the first female athlete to earn $4 million in season earnings.

2004 – Dubai Duty Free became Presenting Sponsor of the Middle East/Asia-Pacific region, while Whirlpool came on board as European Premier Sponsor; the season will be remembered as the year of the Russian emergence, with Anastasia Myskina, Maria Sharapova and Svetlana Kuznetsova claiming their nation's first Grand Slam singles titles.

2005 – Sony Ericsson became the Tour's worldwide title sponsor in a landmark $88-million, six-year deal, the largest and most comprehensive sponsorship in the history of tennis and of women's professional sport; as winner of the US Open Series, Kim Clijsters earns double prize money for winning the US Open; her $2.2 million prize cheque was the single biggest payday in women's sports and in any official tennis event, men's or women's.

2006 – Worldwide title sponsor Sony Ericsson unveiled several game-changing innovations designed to make the sport more fan-friendly and interactive (such as electronic line-calling and on-court coaching); partnerships with US-ANA Health Sciences and Travelex were announced, along with the extension of the Tour's partnership with Eurosport/Regency into 2011, becoming the largest TV deal in the history of women's tennis; European Premier Sponsor Whirlpool extended its agreement for three years; Martina Navratilova ended her 32-year career in which she amassed more titles than any other female or male player; a global partnership with UNESCO was announced to advance gender equality and promote women's leadership in society.

2007 – The Board of Directors approved the Roadmap circuit reform, the most sweeping changes in WTA history which will include a shorter season, fan-friendly structure and 40 percent increase in Tour prize money (from 2009); the historic achievement of equal prize money at Roland Garros and Wimbledon meant that following a 30-year campaign that began with Billie Jean King, all four majors offered parity for the first time; after two successful years in Madrid, the Tour announced the season-ending Sony Ericsson Championships would move to Doha, Qatar for 2008-2010 and to Istanbul, Turkey from 2011-13; Justine Henin became the first woman to earn $5 million in a single season.

2008 – Celebrating its 35th anniversary, the Tour unveiled the largest advertising campaign in its history, with the Looking For A Hero? campaign launched on the eve of Wimbledon. Around the same time, the Tour's Asia-Pacific headquarters opened in Beijing, China, complementing existing offices in St Petersburg, Florida and London, England. Dubai Duty Free announced an extension of its Tour sponsorship through 2011, while Justine Henin became the first player to retire while ranked No.1 in the world, saying goodbye to professional tennis at the age of 25. A record five different women held the No.1 ranking during the season (Henin, Sharapova, Ivanovic, Jankovic, S.Williams), while Doha, Qatar made a successful debut as host of the season-ending Sony Ericsson Championships.

2009 – Off the court, Stacey Allaster succeeded Larry Scott as chairman and CEO of the WTA, while on court the historic Roadmap circuit reforms became a reality. Serena Williams secured the year-end No.1 during the WTA Championships, where she became the first player in history to earn more than $6million in prize money in a single season. Caroline Wozniacki reached a Tour-leading eight finals, winning three of them. The 53 titles were won by 34 different players, producing 13 first-time champions and proving the depth of women's tennis. Kim Clijsters stormed out of retirement and won the US Open in only her third tournament back.

2010 – The WTA celebrated the 40th anniversary of women's professional tennis, marking four decades of unprecedented growth and an increase in annual prize money from $309,100 to $85 million. Serena Williams collected two more Grand Slam titles but it was Caroline Wozniacki who secured the year-end No.1 ranking after picking up six titles. Kim Clijsters was crowned champion at the WTA Championships – Doha after picking up her third, and second consecutive, US Open singles crown. Justine Henin made a comeback from retirement and soared to No.12, while Francesca Schiavone became the first Italian to win a Grand Slam title with victory at Roland Garros. Sony Ericsson renewed their sponsorship with a 2-year extension, while new sponsorship deals were signed with Oriflame, as official cosmetics partner, and Peak, as tennis apparel provider in Asia-Pacific.

WTA Logo & Name

On October 24, 2010, the Women's Tennis Association (WTA), launched a new logo and name.

The new mark was designed to serve as a distinctive and modern reminder of the captivating athleticism and excitement that has driven the international popularity and growth of women's professional tennis and placed it firmly at the nexus of sport and entertainment.

Media are kindly requested to use WTA in all name references.

2010 has once again been a brilliant year for women's tennis and the association. It also marked a new start to Sony Ericsson's relationship with the WTA tour. In 2010, we announced the renewal of our sponsorship of the tour.

The decision to renew our support of women's tennis was an easy one: Working closely with the tour for the past five years, Sony Ericsson has been able to make tennis even more entertaining, and help fans and players engage by creating unique entertaining content offered by our brand.

From competitions that offer fans exclusive access to glittering player parties and setting up dream tennis matches between celebrities and players on sun – soaked courts, we are proud to say we have not only attracted new audiences for this sport but also broadened its appeal across the globe.

Building on our past success' with engaging with fans through social media sites like Facebook™ and Twitter™ have allowed us to have an ongoing real – time dialogue with our fans. In 2011, we will continue to connect fans to their favourite players with more engaging content than ever. The tour will be proud of its efforts in bringing further innovation to the game, elevating the profile of women's tennis to an even higher level than ever before.

2011 will be another memorable year for the sport. Let the battle for the highly contested No. 1 ranking commence. Good luck to all the players and we look forward to seeing you on the court.

Stacey Allaster – Chairman and CEO – WTA

One of the most successful female executives in sports, Stacey Allaster is the Chairman and CEO of the Women's Tennis Association (WTA), a role she was appointed to on July 13, 2009 after originally joining the organization as President on January 1, 2006.

Since joining the WTA, Allaster has been a catalyst for a number of groundbreaking achievements that have taken women's tennis and the WTA to unprecedented business success. Allaster has delivered a series of global sponsorship deals for the WTA, including the extension of the WTA's landmark partnership with Sony Ericsson; the signing of major new sponsorship deals in Europe and Asia-Pacific with Oriflame and Peak; and the renewal of long-standing partnerships with Dubai Duty Free, Travalex, USANA, Wilson and Tennis Warehouse.

Allaster was instrumental in the WTA's long-standing quest to achieve equal prize money for women tennis players at all four Grand Slams, which was finally completed in 2007 when Wimbledon and Roland Garros committed to offering equal prize money to male and female tennis players. In addition, Allaster helped secure equal and record prize money at the year-end Championships, adding to a total of ten tournaments with equal prize money.

Another outstanding achievement has been the adoption of the Roadmap, the WTA's long term strategic plan aimed at streamlining the calendar in order to enhance the overall health and well-being of the athletes and deliver top players on a more consistent basis to tournaments and fans. Additionally, in her first eighteen months with the WTA, Allaster spearheaded more innovative programs than the total number in the prior history of the sport, including on-court coaching, electronic line calling, and a revised doubles scoring format, all aimed at enhancing the fan experience and taking women's tennis to new heights.

In 2008, the WTA embarked on a mission to develop women's tennis in China, one of the world's most dynamic markets, by opening a corporate office in Beijing designed to serve as a hub for all Asia-Pacific marketing activity. The growth of women's tennis in the region is one of Allaster's major priorities. Allaster's other priority has been the development of a series of ambitious digital media projects, including elevating the WTA and its players' visibility on such social network platforms as Facebook, Twitter and YouTube, creating new interactive websites in English, Chinese, and Spanish; developing a mobile WAP site; and, together with the ATP, spearheading TennisTV.com - a single broadband online TV console that hosts and streams live women's and men's matches and highlights packages from more than forty of the sport's largest Tour events.

Under Allaster's leadership at Tennis Canada, the Canadian Open (now known as the Rogers Cup) became one of the best-attended tournaments on Tour, delivering record sponsorship numbers. In addition to turning the women's and men's tournaments in Toronto and Montreal into premier global sporting events, Allaster has played an instrumental role in the building and fundraising for Toronto's world-class Rexall Tennis Centre. The only female Tournament Director to be part of the ATP's prestigious Masters Series, the Welland, Ontario native also was the only woman named by Canada's national newspaper, The Globe & Mail, among the "Top 25 Leaders in Canadian Sport". In 2006, Allaster was named to the "Top 100 Most Powerful Women in Canada" list and received a Sports Media "Canada's Executive of the Year" award, the first woman to do so. In 2010, Forbes magazine named Allaster to its list of "Most Powerful Women in Sports".

A consummate tennis professional, Allaster has held every position in the sport of tennis, from a junior to a collegiate player, to a Tournament Director of prestigious men's and women's Masters Series and Premier Events, to President of Tennis Canada, to President of the WTA, to the Chairman and CEO of the largest and most global sport for women. A member of the WTA's Tournament Council from 2001-2005, Allaster also served as a Tournament Class alternate on the WTA's Board of Directors from 2002-2005.

Allaster holds a Bachelor's degree in Economics and Physical Education from the University of Western Ontario, and an MBA from the University's Ivey School of Business. The mother to children Jack and Alexandra, Allaster and husband John Milkovich reside in St. Petersburg, Florida.

WTA Player Development

WTA – PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

Player Development is the WTA's education and resource center, outreaching to WTA players and their support teams. Player Development programs promote and enhance players' career fulfillment, safety and well-being. "How", you might ask? Players access WTA services and gain concrete skills to maximize their performance on and off the court. Training is organized in-person and on-line through the WTA e-learning environment - players learn career fundamentals according to their schedules and in a way that meets their on-the-go lifestyle.

MENTOR PROGRAM - "PARTNERS FOR SUCCESS"

The 1st mentor program in professional sports, Partners for Success brings together young players with veteran and retired players who share their dynamic experience to help these protégées make a smooth transition into their careers. Billie Jean King, the program's historian, exemplifies the role of a mentor.

PLAYER ORIENTATION - "ROOKIE HOURS"

Players learn the on-site realities and responsibilities of being a participant on the WTA. The orientation helps the players understand the building blocks of the business and her responsibilities and opportunities.

MEDIA TRAINING

Players learn how to be prepared, professional and self-expressive in public speaking opportunities.

PLANNINGZONE MODULES AND SCHEDULEZONE TOOL

To help optimize performance and minimize the risks of injuries, players and their support have the online PlanningZone lesson, which covers critical factors such as fitness and conditioning, smart annual planning, and sports recovery. ScheduleZone is an interactive, online tool that complements the concepts introduced in PlanningZone - players and their support teams use ScheduleZone to plan their upcoming tournament season taking all critical factors into account as they receive feedback specific to their age, ranking and individualized scheduling decisions.

PLAYER SUPPORT TEAM EDUCATION

Player Support Team members (parents, coaches, agents, fitness trainers, etc.) are an integral part of each player's career. The WTA is committed to providing education and information to these Support Team members, ranging from what players will encounter in the professional arena to the rules and expectations that govern all parties in the environment, including adherence to the Code of Conduct.

AGE ELIGIBILITY

The Age Eligibility Rule progressively allows players to play more and at a higher level by phasing them into professional tennis in accordance with their age, their ranking and the skills gained from Player Development. Questions can be referred to Ashley Keber and Sarka Vitkova by email at akeber@wtatour.com or svtkova@wtatour.com or by referencing the 2011 Rulebook.

TRANSITIONS

Transitions is the grand finale to the Player Journey by providing education, training and career guidance for life after tennis. Ranging from financial planning and investing, gaining coaching certifications to internships and public speaking coaching, current and alumnae players have access through seminars and networking opportunities.

PLAYER DEVELOPMENT – HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVE

As part of the WTA's overall committed approach to the well-being and success of its players, Player Development programs have been offered since 1995 to facilitate skill development, promote career fulfillment and longevity, and minimize the physical, psychological and developmental risks of competing in women's professional tennis. In 2004, the WTA marked the ten year anniversary of these model programs by conducting an extensive review, guided by the Player Development Advisory Panel. The Panel is an independent, volunteer body of leading international sports sciences and medicine professionals with extensive experience with female professional athletes and tennis players. The panel is commissioned annually to advise the WTA on all aspects of its athlete growth and development programs.

SUMMARY OF REVIEW FINDINGS

Since their implementation in 1995, the WTA's innovative Player Development programs have been proven successful at addressing the athletes' top stress and performance-related factors, reducing burn-out and increasing career longevity. Specific statistics include:

- Premature retirements (prior to age 22) dropped from 7% to less than 1%.
- Playing careers are lasting 24% longer and a WTA player was 73% more likely to enjoy a 15-year career in 2004 compared with 1994.
- 1994 athlete stressors such as media, loneliness and family are no longer at the top of the list. Performance-based stressors, including injuries, expectations and competition are of increased concern and while common in pro sports, are importantly addressed through Roadmap and other WTA programs.
- Players and the tennis community overwhelmingly (90% overall) support the need for Player Development programs.

PANEL CONCLUSIONS

- The programs and the rule have greatly reduced burnout while fostering the health, development and long-term success of young athletes.
- The WTA's Player Development is cutting edge and recognized as a model within the sports community in its approach to helping athletes anticipate and manage the physical and psychological demands of full-time professional tennis.
- Early exposure to the programs is creating a new generation of athlete who can mitigate the sport's external factors (family, media, etc.) to focus more on important performance factors (expectations, injuries, etc.) that maximize career potential.

2010 IN REVIEW

As the first major of 2010 season got under way the big question was whether Justine Henin could emulate US Open champion Kim Clijsters' feat of winning the first Grand Slam of her comeback. The Belgian did not disappoint but ultimately fell at the final hurdle, although it took world No.1 Serena Williams to keep the trophy out of Henin's hands.

Williams collected her fifth Australian Open title, having fought back from a set and 4-0 down to defeat Victoria Azarenka in the quarterfinals before ending Li Na's challenge in the semifinals. Henin also defeated Chinese opposition in her semifinal with Zheng Jie joining Li to mark the first time that two Chinese players had reached semifinals at the same major; as a result Li became the first Chinese player to crack the Top 10.

History was also made in the first round of the singles when Barbora Zahlavova Strycova defeated Regina Kulikova in a match lasting 4 hours 19 minutes – the longest-recorded women's singles match at a major.

Serena also added to her Grand Slam doubles haul, teaming with sister Venus for their 11th Grand Slam triumph, defeating co-world No.1s Cara Black and Liezel Huber in the final. Black earned some consolation by winning the mixed doubles crown with Leander Paes to complete a career Grand Slam in mixed doubles.

2010 IN REVIEW

Francesca Schiavone captured the hearts and minds of the Parisian crowd as she became the first Italian woman to win a Grand Slam singles title, defeating Australia's Samantha Stosur in a compelling final. The 29-year-old Italian immaculately executed her game plan to defeat Stosur who became the first Australian to reach a Grand Slam final in almost 30 years. Schiavone, who celebrated by kissing the famous red clay, was rewarded with a place in the Top 10 for the first time in her career and a new national Italian ranking record of world No.6.

Schiavone defeated three other higher-ranked players en route to her triumph, No.11 seed Li Na, No.3 seed Caroline Wozniacki in the quarterfinals and No.5 seed Elena Dementieva, who retired due to a left calf injury, in the last four. Stosur saved a match point to defeat Serena Williams in the quarterfinals, having ended Justine Henin's 24-match Roland Garros winning streak in the previous round. She then defeated a third former No.1 in a row, ousting Jelena Jankovic to reach her first Grand Slam final.

Serena and Venus Williams became only the third pair in history to hold all four women's doubles Grand Slam doubles titles simultaneously with a win over Kveta Peschke and Katarina Srebotnik to earn a 12th Grand Slam doubles title. Srebotnik went on to win a fourth Grand Slam mixed doubles crown with Nenad Zimonjic.

2010 IN REVIEW

Serena Williams was in unstoppable form as she blasted her way through the draw to secure her fourth Wimbledon title. The American world No.1 did not drop a set in winning her 13th Grand Slam title, and only faced one set point (vs. Maria Sharapova in the last 16) in the entire fortnight. For good measure, Williams also sent down 89 aces in her 7 matches – a tournament record.

Vera Zvonareva produced the best tennis of her career to reach her first Grand Slam final, eliminating former No.1s Jelena Jankovic and Kim Clijsters en route, but was powerless to stop Williams in the final.

For the first time since 1999, two unseeded players reached the last four at a Grand Slam tournament. Unheralded Petra Kvitová eliminated Caroline Wozniacki on the way to her first-ever Grand Slam singles semifinal, while Tsvetana Pironkova became the first Bulgarian to reach the Wimbledon last four by ousting five-time champion Venus Williams in the quarterfinals.

Zvonareva did manage one victory over Serena, combining with Elena Vesnina to defeat Serena and Venus in the doubles' quarterfinals. The Russian duo went on to reach the final, where they fell to the tournament's surprise packets, Yaroslava Shvedova and Vania King, who won their first Grand Slam title in just their third tournament together. Cara Black added to her impressive list of silverware by winning the mixed doubles title (the fifth of her career) with Leander Paes.

2010 Wimbledon also saw the first visit in 33 years by Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II. Both Williams sisters, Wozniacki and Jankovic were among the present and former players given the honour of meeting the British monarch.

2010 IN REVIEW

Attention focused on Caroline Wozniacki who, in Serena Williams' absence, had been named top seed at a Grand Slam tournament for the first time and arrived in New York with three wins from her last four tournaments. Wozniacki extended her winning streak to 13 matches as she comfortably reached the semifinals, only to fall to an inspired Vera Zvonareva, who advanced to her second straight Grand Slam final.

Zvonareva was prevented from clinching her first major by a clinical display from defending champion Kim Clijsters, who extended her winning run in New York to 21 matches, having also lifted the title in 2005. Clijsters had overcome Venus Williams in the semifinals, in one of the most enthralling women's matches of the year.

Vania King and Yaroslava Shvedova maintained their undefeated record as a team in Grand Slams, winning their second title. The final against No.2 seeds Liezel Huber and Nadia Petrova took two days to complete due to rain delays, and saw King/Shvedova save a match point before winning a second straight Grand Slam doubles crown. For the third time in 2010, one of the doubles runners-up gained consolation in the mixed doubles, which this time saw Huber team with Bob Bryan for victory over Kveta Peschke and Aisam ul-Haq Qureshi.

Jelena Jankovic secured her 12th WTA singles title with a straight sets victory over Caroline Wozniacki in the final of the 2010 BNP Paribas Open at Indian Wells. Both finalists had close calls in the early rounds: Jankovic was just two points away from defeat in her third-round clash with Sara Errani while Wozniacki had to recover from a 4-1 third set deficit in her opening match against Vania King.

Jankovic overcame Australian Samantha Stosur in the semifinals, while Wozniacki, who rose to a career-high No.2 by reaching the final, defeated good friend Agnieszka Radwanska in the last four. Top seed Svetlana Kuznetsova suffered a surprise three-set loss to Carla Suarez Navarro in her opener.

In just their third tournament together, unseeded pair Kveta Peschke and Katarina Srebotnik won a tight battle with No.3 seeds Nadia Petrova and Stosur in the doubles final.

2010 IN REVIEW

Kim Clijsters ended Venus Williams' 15-match winning streak with a dominant display in the Sony Ericsson Open final. The powerful Belgian took only 58 minutes to claim a 63 64 victory against the American, who came into the event following back-to-back victories in Dubai and Acapulco.

Clijsters survived a tough three-setter against compatriot Justine Henin in the semifinals while Williams accounted for the in-form Frenchwoman Marion Bartoli, who had defeated top seed Svetlana Kuznetsova in the last 16.

Miami also saw the start of Gisela Dulko and Flavia Pennetta's fantastic doubles year as they picked up their first title – of an eventual seven – of the year with victory over Nadia Petrova and Samantha Stosur in the final, having defeated two of the other top four seeded pairings in the earlier rounds.

2010 IN REVIEW

Aravane Rezaï won the biggest title of her career with a superb run to the Madrid title. The 23-year-old Frenchwoman eliminated Justine Henin in the first round and Jelena Jankovic in the quarterfinals before upsetting Venus Williams in the final. Rezaï fought back from 2-5 down in the second set, saving six set points, to seal a 62 75 victory and her third WTA singles title.

Williams, who returned to the world No.2 spot after tournament dropped just one set en route to the final (to Schiavone in the third round), seeing off Shahar Peer in the last four Rezaï enjoyed an easier ride to the final as her semifinal opponent Lucie Safarova retired with a left thigh injury after losing the first set.

Williams gained some consolation by teaming up with Serena, who had lost to Nadia Petrova in the singles last 16, to win the doubles title, ending the 17-match winning run of Gisela Dulko and Flavia Pennetta in the final.

Caroline Wozniacki won her sixth title of the year at the China Open in Beijing but it was her ascent to the world No.1 spot during the event that stole all the headlines. The 20-year-old's third round victory against Petra Kvitova was enough for her to surpass Serena Williams and climb to the top of the rankings for the first time. Her three-set victory over Vera Zvonareva, her 23rd victory in 24 matches, was merely the icing on the cake for the Dane.

Zvonareva had dashed home hopes of a victory by ousting crowd favourite and Chinese No.1 Li Na in the semifinals, while Wozniacki ousted Shahar Peer in the last four. Third and fourth seeds Jelena Jankovic and Samantha Stosur both lost to qualifiers in the second and first round respectively.

There was a surprise victory in the doubles when Chuang Chia-Jung and Olga Govortsova defeated top seeds Flavia Pennetta and Gisela Dulko in a closely-fought final, recovering from 6-4 down in the match tiebreak. They defeated four of the eight seeded pairings to earn the title.

2010 IN REVIEW

Kim Clijsters crowned a sensational season, winning her fifth title of the year with a three-set victory over world No.1 Caroline Wozniacki in the final at Doha. The Belgian lifted her third WTA Championships title, having also won the title in 2002-03.

In the semifinals, Clijsters defeated Samantha Stosur, while Wozniacki overcame Vera Zvonareva. These four emerged from the round-robin groups, which also included Francesca Schiavone, Victoria Azarenka, Jelena Jankovic and Elena Dementieva as the eight top singles players of the year gathered in Doha for the final time before the Championships move to Istanbul in 2011 for three years.

Dementieva provided the other headline of the week, announcing her retirement from professional tennis at the conclusion of her final round-robin match against Schiavone. The 29-year-old took the microphone to declare that she would be stepping away from the sport in an emotional speech, surrounded by her fellow players.

In doubles, Gisela Dulko and Flavia Pennetta capped their spectacular season with the WTA Championships title, their seventh of the year. They ended the year as the No.1 ranked doubles team.

2010 Final: Ana Ivanovic (SRB) d.

Alisa Kleybanova (RUS) 62 76(5)

2010 IN REVIEW

Ana Ivanovic completed a remarkable turnaround to her season by winning her second title in three tournaments with a 62 76 victory over Alisa Kleybanova in the second Commonwealth Bank Tournament of Champions. As a result of this triumph, Ivanovic returned to the Top 20, having dropped out of the Top 60 in July.

The Serb celebrated her 23rd birthday a day before the final with a thrilling three-set semifinal victory over wildcard Kimiko Date-Krumm, while Kleybanova defeated another wildcard Daniela Hantuchova to reach her third final of the year.

Despite losing in the final, Kleybanova can reflect on her best season to date, winning her first two WTA singles titles, in Kuala Lumpur and Seoul.

Date-Krumm defeated Hantuchova for third place to wrap up a great year, which saw her become the oldest player to rank in the Top 50 since 1984 and the oldest to defeat a Top 10 player.

Defending champion Aravane Rezaï fell to Kleybanova in the opening round, along with top seed Li Na, Anastasia Pavlyuchenkova and Yanina Wickmayer, who rounded out the elite eight-woman field.

Explanations Regarding Profiles

- This Official Guide features profiles of the Top 100 singles and Top 20 doubles players using the WTA Rankings for the week of November 8, 2010, along with any other players deemed necessary for inclusion.
- Win-loss records in the Grand Slam (Singles) History chart comprise main draw matches only.
- Players without a season-ending Championships chart in their biography have not qualified for the event up to and including 2010.
- Career-high ranking information is up-to-date through the week of November 8, 2010.
- Player pronunciations, where necessary, are included below the players' names on their biography page and on Page 43.
- Except where noted in the player profiles, titles/finals, all win-loss records (overall and by surface) refer to singles. Prize money includes singles, doubles and mixed

More Information?

In addition to the profiles of active players that appear in this section there are several hundred active and historical player profiles, updated regularly, located in the Players section of the WTA official website at www.wtatour.com.

The website also features the latest weekly WTA Rankings, the Race to the WTA Championships, regularly updated scores and schedules of current WTA events, tournament information, news stories, video on demand and photo galleries. Player profiles also feature match activity and head-to-head search functions.

SAVAGE

GO AHEAD. DARE TO MAKE THEM ANGRY.

Savage strings are for powerful players who take big cuts and want to hit a heavy ball. The unique six-sided shape provides "savage" amounts of spin and kick for all shots. Show your opponents no mercy!

2011 WTA Ranking System

The WTA rankings are based on a 52-week, cumulative system. A player's ranking is determined by her results at a maximum of 16 tournaments for singles and 11 for doubles.

The tournaments that count towards a player's ranking are those that yield the highest ranking points during the rolling 52-week period. They must include points from the Grand Slams, Premier Mandatory tournaments and the WTA Championships. For Top 20 players, their best two results at Premier 5 tournaments (Dubai, Rome, Cincinnati, Montreal/Toronto and Tokyo) will also count.

In order to appear on the WTA rankings, players must earn ranking points in at least 3 tournaments, or a minimum of 10 singles ranking points or 10 doubles ranking points in one or more tournaments.

2011 AGE ELIGIBILITY RULE HIGHLIGHTS

A 14-year-old may play up to 8 ITF Women's Circuit events plus Fed Cup. A 14-year old may accept up to one Wild Card into a WTA International tournament if she is enrolled and current in Player Development.

A 15-year-old may play up to 10 professional events (WTA & ITF Women's Circuit), WTA Championships (if she qualifies), plus Fed Cup.

A 16-year-old may play up to 12 professional events (WTA & ITF Women's Circuit), WTA Championships (if she qualifies), plus Fed Cup.

A 17-year-old may play up to 16 professional events (WTA & ITF Women's Circuit), WTA Championships (if she qualifies), plus Fed Cup. In the WTA Year of her 17th birthday a player may be named to the Top 10 and/or Premier Player Lists.

Merited Increases: A player aged 15-17 is allowed up to four (4) merited increases per birth year (i.e. birthday to birthday). Merited increases are in addition to a player's allotted number of Tournaments under the AER. A merited increase is earned when a player aged 15-17 has completed all of her Player Development requirements to-date and earned her way into the Main Draw or Qualifying of a Premier Mandatory Tournament or Grand Slam via a direct acceptance. Players may include up to two (2) Grand Slam events in their total number of four (4) merited increases. However, if a player is: i) accepted via a Wild Card; ii) 14 years of age; or iii) aged 15-17 and was accepted by direct acceptance but has not completed her Player Development requirements prior to competing in the Premier Mandatory or Grand Slam event, then participation in such event is counted towards her total allotment of Tournaments under the AER.

An 18-year-old may play an unlimited number of professional tournaments, Fed Cup and the WTA Championships. The player will remain a full participant in Player Development until notified of graduation.

Mandatory Play: All players, regardless of age, who by ranking (including Special Rankings) qualify for acceptance into the Main Draw of a Premier Mandatory Tournament (Indian Wells, Miami, Madrid, Beijing) or the Main Draw of a Grand Slam will be entered automatically. A player who has reached her maximum number of professional tournaments under the Age Eligibility Rule prior to such mandatory Tournaments, will not be allowed to play in the Mandatory Tournament and will be assessed a fine and/or receive zero ranking points unless she meets the requirements for it to count in addition to her allotted number of Tournaments.

Olympics: The Age Eligibility Restrictions with respect to the Women's Tennis Competition will be detailed in the 2012 WTA Age Eligibility Rule and ITF Olympic Tennis Event 2012 Regulations.

This serves only as a brief view of the Age Eligibility Rule. Refer to the complete version of the 2011 Age Eligibility Rule on the website at www.wtatour.com or in the 2011 WTA Rulebook for details. Questions can be referred to Player Development: Ashley Keber and Sarka Vitkova by email at akeber@wtatour.com or svitkova@wtatour.com.

No. 1 vs. No. 2

The Top 2 in the world have met officially on 103 occasions (through 2010 season). The No.1 player has prevailed in 66 meetings, while the No.2 has won 37 of those encounters. To date, all except six match-ups have taken place in a tournament final. Here is a look at the No.1 vs. No.2 meetings since 1969:

* When Chris Evert played her last WTA match at the 1989 US Open, she was world No. 4.

 Ranking reflects only four tournaments as a result of inability to play following April 30, 1993, stabbing in Hamburg, Germany.

 Monica Seles was co-ranked No. 1 for her first six tournaments when she returned to the Tour on Tuesday, August 15, 1995, in Toronto.

* Seles' special ranking status was revised in 1996, where she received a ranking average for the first time since her return to the WTA on May 27, 1996, after her sixth tournament in Madrid, Spain. Following Madrid and until she had played 14 tournaments, or, 18 months after her first tournament (the Canadian Open in August 1995), her average was calculated using a divisor of the actual number of tournaments she had played. Seles would be co-ranked with the player whose average is immediately below her average. After February 1997, or on completion of her 14th tournament following her 1995 return, (whichever came first) Seles would no longer receive special ranking status.

SINGLES — PRE-MODERN RECORD

Helen Wills Moody did not lose a set in singles from 1927 to 1932. Suzanne Lenglen was defeated only once in singles from 1919 to 1926 and that was in a match against Molla Mallory at the US Championships in 1921, in which she retired while trailing in the second set. Exact numbers of match victories are unavailable due to incomplete of records from that era.

DOUBLES - LONGEST MATCH WIN STREAK (MODERN RECORD)

109 matches Martina Navratilova/Pam Shriver.
After losing the final to Billie Jean King and Anne Smith at the Tournament of Champions in Orlando, FL-USA, on April 24, 1983, Navratilova/Shriver won 109 consecutive matches before falling to Kathy Jordan/Elizabeth Smylie in the 1985 Wimbledon final on July 6, 1985.

Grand Slam Champions

The Australian Open, Roland Garros, Wimbledon and US Open are the four Grand Slam tournaments. Winning the title at each major in the same year is known as the "Grand Slam". Three women have completed the singles Grand Slam in a calendar year: 1953 – Maureen Connolly; 1970 – Margaret Court; 1988 – Steffi Graf.

A further six women have won each Grand Slam singles title at least once in their careers (known as the career Grand Slam): Doris Hart, Shirley Fry, Billie Jean King, Chris Evert, Martina Navratilova, and Serena Williams, with Navratilova (1983-84) and Williams (2002-03) holding all four titles at the same time.

Australia's Margaret Court holds the record for all-time Grand Slam singles titles (men or women) with 24 titles, ahead of Steffi Graf, who holds the Open Era record of 22.

In the Open Era, eight women have won three of the four Grand Slam titles: Lindsay Davenport, Evonne Goolagong Cawley, Justine Henin, Martina Hingis, Hana Mandlikova, Monica Seles, Maria Sharapova and Virginia Wade.

Olympic Tennis

Tennis returned to the Olympic Games as a medal sport at Seoul in 1988 after a 64-year absence. In Beijing in 2008 Elena Dementieva became the sixth woman to win an Olympic Gold medal in tennis in the Modern Era, all of whom have been ranked in the Top 10 at the time of their success.

Arantxa Sánchez-Vicario has won more medals (4) than any other female tennis player in the modern era. She competed in 5 consecutive Olympic Games from 1988 to 2004, also a modern record.

The singles medalists since 1988 are:

	GOLD	SILVER	BRONZE
1988: Seoul, Korea (hard)	Steffi Graf (GER)	Gabriela Sabatini (ARG)	Zina Garrison (USA) Manuela Maleeva (BUL)

International Tennis Federation

As the world governing body of tennis, the International Tennis Federation (ITF) is responsible for every level of the sport including the regulation of rules and the future development of the game. Based in London, the ITF has 206 member nations and six regional associations, which administer the game in their respective areas, in close consultation with the ITF.

The ITF is committed to promoting tennis around the world and encouraging as many people as possible to play the game. An estimated 60 million people enjoy playing tennis in more than 200 countries worldwide, making tennis one of the few truly global sports. The breadth of appeal is appropriately reflected in the ITF's active involvement in a range of circuits including junior tennis, lower level professional events, wheelchair tennis, seniors tennis and beach tennis, which was launched in 2008.

Dedicated websites can be found on each of these circuits by visiting www.itftennis.com.

During 2010, 443 ITF Women's Circuit tournaments were organized in 67 countries worldwide, enabling players to gain experience and earn the ranking points necessary to enter Sony Ericsson WTA Tour events. The ITF Women's Circuit, which forms part of the ITF Pro Circuit, is the vital link between junior tennis and the Tour. During 2010, the total amount of prize money available on the Circuit was over $10 million.

All players who compete in ITF Pro Circuit tournaments must have a valid IPIN and sign up to the IPIN Online Service, for which an annual IPIN fee is payable ($55 in 2011). For details of these entry requirements and other related Circuit information visit www.itftennis.com/ipin.

The ITF actively promotes the importance of representing one's country whether at the Olympics or within the team competition format. The men's Davis Cup by BNP Paribas and women's Fed Cup by BNP Paribas are the largest annual international team competitions in sport and most prized in the ITF's event portfolio. Both have a rich history and have consistently attracted the best players from each passing generation.

Both team competitions continue to maintain their appeal. In 2010, 128 nations have entered Davis Cup, while 90 countries have entered the 2010 Fed Cup. Further information on these competitions is available at www.daviscup.com and www.fedcup.com.

The Olympic and Paralympic Tennis Events are also an important part of the ITF's responsibilities. The 2008 Olympic Tennis Event was held in Beijing in August with 169 players from 48 nations participating. The Paralympic Tennis Event also took place in the Chinese capital in September. For further information on the Olympic Tennis Event visit www.itftennis.com/olympics.

At the grass roots level, the development of the game is a major priority. The ITF runs a comprehensive development programme with the aim of raising the level of tennis worldwide and increasing the number of countries competing in mainstream tennis. The development programme's remit is far-reaching and includes a worldwide schools tennis initiative program, the education of coaches, equipment distribution, facility grants, increasing competitive opportunities, as well as organizing junior and professional touring teams and tournaments.

The ITF Development Programme is funded by the ITF, and the Grand Slam Development Fund, administered by the ITF, is funded by the Grand Slam Tournaments. In the last 20 years almost $60 million has been invested in tennis development worldwide. For further information on the ITF Development Programme visit www.itftennis.com/development.

One of the ITF's most important tasks is to safeguard the future of the game. This is achieved through governance of the rules of tennis, conducting research into the technical aspects of tennis and by keeping ahead of all new trends and issues. Regulation of the sport also includes keeping tennis free from drugs, and the ITF is responsible for the management, administration and enforcement of the Tennis Anti-Doping Program at all WTA events.
